Annual Education & Research Seminar

Our Annual Education & Research Seminar took place on Thursday the 2nd of February, 22 years after the inaugural event was first envisaged.

In that time the seminar has gone from strength to strength, given the strong foundations laid over the years, so much so that the theme for this year's seminar was "fas agus forbairt", "growth and development".

This reflects both the growth in the Irish Association for Palliative Care as well as the wider Palliative Care community in general. Overall, the seminar was received very well by attendees on the day and the quality of both Platform Presentations and Poster Presentations was of the highest standard.

We would like to thank all those who attended the event, with a particular thanks to everyone who took part in presenting their research, whether through the platform presentations or through a poster submission.

A special mention goes to Professor Mark Taubert & Dr. Fiona Kiely for their fantastic presentations on the day, as well as the following:
